1 Preface

This document describes the terms and conditions under which TISA is licensing copyrighted material to 3rd parties. This document itself is under TISA Copyright.

Copyright protects the identity of authors and their ownership of intellectual property. Since TISA documents are generally produced, and therefore collectively owned, by TISA members, the TISA Product Licensing Terms protect the interests of its membership by managing and defending the copyright on behalf of its membership. The TISA Product Licensing Terms apply in general to most TISA document, but specifically to technical specifications, guidelines, reference tables and other technical documents.

3 Limited liability

A TISA Product represents a mature piece of work, which has been released by the authoring team, thoroughly reviewed within TISA, and approved by all TISA members before being published. However, the Licensee shall be aware of that technical progress or changing business requirements may result in TISA Products being updated. Further requires the standardization process within ISO, which many TISA Products undergo, in some cases editorial changes, while the technical content remains largely unchanged.

The Licensee is responsible for checking that the TISA Product it is using for implementing any products or services is the most recent version. TISA cannot be held liable for any material or immaterial damage that may be caused by the implementation or application of a TISA Product.

4 Licensing Terms

4.1 General Licensing Terms

The Licensee may retain one (1) electronic copy of the licensed TISA Product and produce one (1) printed copy thereof. The Licensee may not reproduce or distribute the TISA Product, neither in electronic nor in printed form, neither as a whole nor in part. This applies specifically to distribution of electronic copies by email or via publically accessible websites, FTP archives, file hosters, peer-to-peer networks or cloud-based systems.

The TISA Product may not be modified. Specifically, neither the Copyright Notice nor the Digital Watermark may be altered or removed. The Licensee may not translate the TISA Product, nor incorporate it in part or as a whole in any other work, without prior consent from TISA. In case the TISA Product is protected by a Password, the Licensee may not distribute that Password to any 3rd Party.

If new versions of a TISA Product become available, a Licensee is not automatically entitled to receive an updated document free of charge.

4.2 Individual Licenses

Licenses are individual and per TISA Product, i.e. Licenses do not forward.

An organisation that has obtained a License for one or several TISA Products does not inherit the right to use other TISA Products, which it did not purchase itself and thus did not obtain an individual own license. Licenses therefore do not forward onto other Products.

4.3 Special Licensing Terms

No special licensing terms apply.

Certain copyrighted TISA Products may further be protected by an individual Password to prevent unauthorized use of an illegally distributed electronic copy of a TISA Product.

Copyright infringements occur when intellectual property, i.e. copyrighted documents, whole or in part is without prior and express permission of the owner. Examples for the above copyright infringements are:

- reproduced;
- distributed;

- uploading of TISA Products onto publically accessible websites, FTP sites, peer-to-peer networks or any other technical means where files can be shared with 3rd Parties or the general public
- removing of watermarks from TISA Products

If violations of the Licensing Terms become known to the TISA Executive Office or any TISA Member, then TISA reserves the right to take legal action against the offending organisation or individual. Such actions depend on the severity of the offence and will be decided by the TISA Steering Board on a case-by-case basis. Legal actions may include:
